All new artists must go through a jurying process at the Sawmill Center. This involves sending photographs of 3 to 5 examples of your work for review with your completed application to info@sawmill.org or to the address below. If you already sell your art at the Sawmill Craft Market or have previously participated in this specific event, you are automatically accepted for the 2019 event.

Signature on this application confirms you will abide by and agree to the event requirements below:

- ✓ Items for display and sale must be of high quality, demonstrating excellence of craftsmanship. You understand you may be required to remove any work that is deemed inappropriate or in poor taste.
- ✓ You confirm that you understand the Cook Forest Sawmill Center for the Arts is not responsible for accidents that may result in damage to merchandise, outside of what may be covered under our insurance.
- ✓ You agree to demonstrate your artistry and maintain your display during the advertised event hours and to completely clean your space and disposing of all trash at the conclusion.
- ✓ You will have pieces for sale directly to the public.
- ✓ You will donate at least one piece of significant value for each auction on Saturday and Sunday.
- ✓ Proceeds from the pieces sold at auction will be split 50-50 with the artist and the Cook Forest Sawmill Center for the Arts.
